

COL. ROOSEVELT RAISES TUMULT

Hamilton Club Hearers Went Wild
Over His Denunciation of Conditions in Illinois.

STOOD ON CHAIRS AND TABLES

Waved Handkerchiefs and Cheered
And Cheered at the Top of Their Voices.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Standing tonight before 1,500 men, nearly all of them citizens of Illinois, and the majority prominent in politics and business life, Theodore Roosevelt moved his hearers to wild enthusiasm by his scathing denunciation of political conditions in Illinois.

The great banquet hall at the Congress hotel never witnessed such a scene, nor echoed to such a tumult as followed the close of Col. Roosevelt's address.

The members of the Hamilton club, under whose auspices the banquet was given, together with their guests, stood on chairs and tables, waving handkerchiefs in the wildest manner, while they cheered the speaker at the top of their voices.

After his introduction Col. Roosevelt declared that he was about to talk on delicate matters, which nevertheless should be treated only with directness. Following this he took up the condition in Illinois politics, described by witnesses in the present trial of Lee O'Neil Browne for bribery in connection with the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate.

"Read the confessions of those four members of that Illinois legislature who have appeared in the case," declared Col. Roosevelt. "Read the evidence obtained by the state's attorneys of two counties and know that Illinois politicians cannot be cured by ignoring what is going on."

After his speech Col. Roosevelt was to have attended a reception in another room of the hotel. He tried to reach this room, but for some time was unable to make his way through the cheering crowd. As he left the platform some one started a cheer for Speaker Cannon. This was taken up until the speaker arose from the table.

During the Roosevelt speech Speaker Cannon received much attention from the audience. It had been rumored that in case any reference to him were made by Col. Roosevelt to which the speaker took exception an answer had been prepared. Col. Roosevelt made no reference to Mr. Cannon.

When introduced by President Batten of the Hamilton club, Col. Roosevelt was greeted with tumultuous applause lasting for several minutes. His address was as follows:

ROOSEVELT'S ADDRESS.

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

White Fawn Flour

White Fawn
Flour is the kind you'll find in the wise cook's flour bin.

ASK YOUR GROCER

ever I have spoken, either to this club or whenever I have spoken in Chicago, I have always addressed myself to the instant need of things, for it would not be worth your while to have me, and it would not be worth my while to come if I could not speak exactly as I thought upon the questions of the hour.

SOURCES OF DANGER.

"Now, there are just two sources of danger to the American people: lawless violence and corruption. Lawless violence we most often have to face from among the people who have least of the world's goods, and corruption which we most often have to face among the people that have most of the world's goods."

"In the program tonight you have done me the honor to print certain quotations from speeches I have made, mostly before the Hamilton club, and the first quotation is: 'We must see that there is civic honesty, civic cleanliness, civic good sense, in our whole administration of city, state and nation.'"

"My friends, the value of a sentence like that consists exclusively in the way in which we try to live up to it. The worth of what I have to say to you, and to the people with whom you will listen to me, depends upon the way in which we translate words into deeds."

"It has been well said that the progress, the true progress of a people can best be gauged by their standard of moral conduct, by their judgment as to what conduct is moral and what conduct is immoral, and by the effectiveness with which they make their approbation of the moral and their disapprobation of the immoral."

"Each state of the Union, each important city of the Union, has a right to time to time to face this question. More than once we have been brought face to face with it in the state of New York. You are face to face with it now in the state of Illinois."

"I have been reading the reports of the investigations of the state's attorneys which resulted in the indictment of four members of the legislature and together with that I have read the reports of the confession of four other members of the legislature. I was advised today by a very worthy friend not to talk on the matter, because it was a delicate subject and he added that no one had been convicted."

"No, I feel most strongly that we make the question of public honesty a sham if we limit the use of the word 'honesty' to mere law."

"There are big business men whom I have counted as among the most invidious enemies of the real welfare of this republic, although they have been so advised that it would be impossible to convict them, and there have been in the United States and there have been in New York many public men whose careers have been scandalized throughout the country, although they keep clear of the courts."

"Read the confessions of the four men. Read what was developed by the two state's attorneys, one belonging to one party and one belonging to the other, about the four men against whom they secured indictments, and about other men also. Read that and I defy any honest man of intelligence not to come to the conclusion that the legislature whose doing have been exposed was guilty of the foulest and basest corruption and therefore of the most infamous treason to American institutions."

"Now, I am a good party man, but I am an American first. When we come to questions affecting the vital principles of American life I know no partyism which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. H. H. H.

opposite party, I will try, if possible, a little harder to get hold of the thief of my own party.

WHEN HE WAS PRESIDENT.

"When I was president I endeavored to act so that there should be no need of raising the cry among my opponents of 'turn the rascals out,' because I turned them out myself just as fast as I could get at them."

"Now, mind you, take my words as worth less than nothing, unless in looking back you can see that they were justified by my deeds. I am not sure of it. In making investigations I struck two different sets of cases. There was one set of cases where prosecutions would lie. In those cases I turned the matter over to the department of justice. In addition, there was the large class of cases where there was not sufficient ground for prosecution, but where it was evident that the man was an unfit and improper public servant. And there I turned him out; and when, now and then, the men back of him, occasionally belonging to a co-ordinate branch of the government, would come up and say, 'Oh, there is no conviction against him,' I said, 'No, I dare say that he has practiced law honestly, but he is a crook and out he goes.'"

"Now I could do that with the appointive officers, who held office under me; with the elective office there is but one body that can do that, and that is the people. It depends upon you, the people of America, whether you will permit a man to represent you because he has been acquitted in a court of law, or because there has been a mistrial, so that enough jurors have believed in him to get him off; whether you will permit that man to represent you or whether you will take the stand that where you have evidence of a kind which may not be legal, but which convinces every honest man of intelligence, whether you will submit to the pollution of American life by putting such a man in a high official position."

"My friends, the value of a sentence like that consists exclusively in the way in which we try to live up to it. The worth of what I have to say to you, and to the people with whom you will listen to me, depends upon the way in which we translate words into deeds."

"It has been well said that the progress, the true progress of a people can best be gauged by their standard of moral conduct, by their judgment as to what conduct is moral and what conduct is immoral, and by the effectiveness with which they make their approbation of the moral and their disapprobation of the immoral."

"Each state of the Union, each important city of the Union, has a right to time to time to face this question. More than once we have been brought face to face with it in the state of New York. You are face to face with it now in the state of Illinois."

"I have been reading the reports of the investigations of the state's attorneys which resulted in the indictment of four members of the legislature and together with that I have read the reports of the confession of four other members of the legislature. I was advised today by a very worthy friend not to talk on the matter, because it was a delicate subject and he added that no one had been convicted."

"No, I feel most strongly that we make the question of public honesty a sham if we limit the use of the word 'honesty' to mere law."

"There are big business men whom I have counted as among the most invidious enemies of the real welfare of this republic, although they have been so advised that it would be impossible to convict them, and there have been in the United States and there have been in New York many public men whose careers have been scandalized throughout the country, although they keep clear of the courts."

"Read the confessions of the four men. Read what was developed by the two state's attorneys, one belonging to one party and one belonging to the other, about the four men against whom they secured indictments, and about other men also. Read that and I defy any honest man of intelligence not to come to the conclusion that the legislature whose doing have been exposed was guilty of the foulest and basest corruption and therefore of the most infamous treason to American institutions."

"Now, I am a good party man, but I am an American first. When we come to questions affecting the vital principles of American life I know no partyism which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

TUBERCULOSIS AMONG CATTLE

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. H. H. H.

opposite party, I will try, if possible, a little harder to get hold of the thief of my own party.

WHEN HE WAS PRESIDENT.

"When I was president I endeavored to act so that there should be no need of raising the cry among my opponents of 'turn the rascals out,' because I turned them out myself just as fast as I could get at them."

"Now, mind you, take my words as worth less than nothing, unless in looking back you can see that they were justified by my deeds. I am not sure of it. In making investigations I struck two different sets of cases. There was one set of cases where prosecutions would lie. In those cases I turned the matter over to the department of justice. In addition, there was the large class of cases where there was not sufficient ground for prosecution, but where it was evident that the man was an unfit and improper public servant. And there I turned him out; and when, now and then, the men back of him, occasionally belonging to a co-ordinate branch of the government, would come up and say, 'Oh, there is no conviction against him,' I said, 'No, I dare say that he has practiced law honestly, but he is a crook and out he goes.'"

"Now I could do that with the appointive officers, who held office under me; with the elective office there is but one body that can do that, and that is the people. It depends upon you, the people of America, whether you will permit a man to represent you because he has been acquitted in a court of law, or because there has been a mistrial, so that enough jurors have believed in him to get him off; whether you will permit that man to represent you or whether you will take the stand that where you have evidence of a kind which may not be legal, but which convinces every honest man of intelligence, whether you will submit to the pollution of American life by putting such a man in a high official position."

"My friends, the value of a sentence like that consists exclusively in the way in which we try to live up to it. The worth of what I have to say to you, and to the people with whom you will listen to me, depends upon the way in which we translate words into deeds."

"It has been well said that the progress, the true progress of a people can best be gauged by their standard of moral conduct, by their judgment as to what conduct is moral and what conduct is immoral, and by the effectiveness with which they make their approbation of the moral and their disapprobation of the immoral."

"Each state of the Union, each important city of the Union, has a right to time to time to face this question. More than once we have been brought face to face with it in the state of New York. You are face to face with it now in the state of Illinois."

"I have been reading the reports of the investigations of the state's attorneys which resulted in the indictment of four members of the legislature and together with that I have read the reports of the confession of four other members of the legislature. I was advised today by a very worthy friend not to talk on the matter, because it was a delicate subject and he added that no one had been convicted."

"No, I feel most strongly that we make the question of public honesty a sham if we limit the use of the word 'honesty' to mere law."

"There are big business men whom I have counted as among the most invidious enemies of the real welfare of this republic, although they have been so advised that it would be impossible to convict them, and there have been in the United States and there have been in New York many public men whose careers have been scandalized throughout the country, although they keep clear of the courts."

"Read the confessions of the four men. Read what was developed by the two state's attorneys, one belonging to one party and one belonging to the other, about the four men against whom they secured indictments, and about other men also. Read that and I defy any honest man of intelligence not to come to the conclusion that the legislature whose doing have been exposed was guilty of the foulest and basest corruption and therefore of the most infamous treason to American institutions."

"Now, I am a good party man, but I am an American first. When we come to questions affecting the vital principles of American life I know no partyism which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

"I have had a long and to me a most pleasant and profitable connection with this club. I have known you before I had attained any special prominence in public life, and when I came back from the Cuban campaign I was a committee of your club that was practically the first organization to meet me. When I was inaugurated as governor, a body of representatives of this club were present. I think it was this club which was practically the first organization to be so unwise as to formulate a desire to have me made president."

"It was at an address here, at the Hamilton club, that I used the expression, 'strenuous life,' an expression which, from that day to this, I have never been able to use, and whenever I have come to you or when-

NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Utah Precinct Company, a corporation, is hereby called and will be held at the office of the company at Murray City, Utah, at 2 o'clock on Thursday, the 15th day of September, 1910, for the purpose of voting on the propositions: first, to amend Article 3 of the Articles of Incorporation by changing the time of the annual meeting of the stockholders from the second Tuesday in October to the second Tuesday in February in each year; and second, to amend Article 8 of the said Articles of Incorporation so that said Articles shall read as follows, or in such other manner as may be agreed upon by the stockholders at said meeting, to-wit:

ARTICLE 3.
The limit of capital stock of said company shall be $750,000, divided into fifty thousand shares of non-assessable stock of the par value of one dollar ($1.00) per share.

ARTICLE 8.
The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held at the general office of the company at 10 o'clock a.m. on the second Tuesday in February of each year. And to transact such other business as may be brought before the meeting.

J. H. MILLER, President.
J. L. BROWN, Secretary.
Dated Aug. 20th, 1910.
First publication Aug. 25, 1910.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.
Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the undersigned up to 12 noon Friday, September 23, 1910, for the materials and labor required in the erection of a brick and concrete technical high school building, and boiler house addition, to be erected on the present high school grounds, for the Salt Lake City Board of Education, according to plans, specifications and conditions, which are open for inspection by the bidders at the office of Cannon & Co., architects, 205-207 Temple Building, Salt Lake City, Utah, and all bids and proposals at the above time and place must be submitted to the office of the Board of Education for Salt Lake City, Utah. All bids must be accompanied by a check or cash for the sum of $1,000.00, to be held in escrow for the bidder. The successful bidder will be required to enter into contract and furnish bond in the sum of $5,000.00, right to reject any and all bids.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.
By L. P. JUDD, Clerk.

Telephone Cost
Cannot be measured in dollars and cents.
Bell service brings peace of mind that no other agency can furnish.
In an emergency
it may save lives—or fortunes. It reduces miles to inches—does it instantly!

REASONABLE RATES
Call the Manager.

BELL
SERVICE
IS SATIS-FACTORY

Special Stockholders' Meeting of the PARK CITY MINING AND POWER CO.
Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Park City Mining and Power Company will be held at the principal office of the company, Room 205-207 Temple Building, Salt Lake City